

Manhattan Legal Services (MLS) is seeking to hire a social worker who will be part of an interdisciplinary team of attorneys and paralegals.

About the Organization:

Manhattan Legal Services fights poverty and seeks economic, social and racial justice for low-income borough residents through the provision of free legal representation, systemic advocacy and community education. Each year, MLS's advocates represent and advise thousands of low-income residents of Manhattan facing crises with basic needs. MLS especially focuses on vulnerable populations including people living with HIV or a disability, elderly people, families with children, domestic violence survivors, immigrants and people who are unemployed. MLS empowers our clients by providing holistic, culturally competent and linguistically appropriate legal services which address the multiple legal needs of clients. MLS is committed to diversity and inclusion, both internally and externally, and seeks candidates that support and enhance our diversity goals.
