

Each year, Legal Services NYC utilizes more than 2,000 pro bono volunteers from nearly 100 law firms and corporations. These volunteers collectively impact more than 7,000 low-income people, and donate more than 70,000 hours annually. Volunteers secure more than $7M annually for clients in settlements, benefits, and debt discharge. In addition to placing impact cases, LSNYC's pro bono program serves individual clients across nearly all of our civil practice areas - including immigration, family, education, employment, benefits, trusts & estates, consumer, LGBTQ/HIV, veterans, and housing. In addition to individual placements, LSNYC holds approximately 70 clinics and "study groups" each year that collectively serve more than 1,000 low-income clients.

Law firms and corporations who are interested in getting involved should contact Adam Heintz. Individuals who are not affiliated with law firms or corporations, and are interested in volunteering should submit a volunteer application online.
